

I arrived home from the meeting, pushed off my shoes and glanced up at the Happylife display. Sandra's dial had rotated 2 clicks further than I'd ever seen it. The orb was pulsing wildly. She'd seemed fine when I left.